There is Baldwin, late cashier of the Mechanics National Bank of Newark, for instance. He entered the bank a poor boy with no friends and only one suspender. A no friends and only one suspender. A dollar to him looked as big as a cart Seven hundred millions of dollars wheel, and if he had found one in the road he would probably have wanted to go right off and buy a steamboat and a circus. He thus entered the bank a or boy, but he was active, energetic from time to time and he went right on in that energetic way he had about him until the bank hadn't anything left but the house and the right have been married 67 years, and industrious. He was promoted left but the house and the stove, a desk left but the house and the stove, a desk or two and a few chairs. Truly, one who starts out as a poor boy may by industry accomplish a great deal in this world, but if he is more energetic than the law allows he may in the end land in the penitentiary.

What he wanted particularly was a card from the Secretary of State in order to get an exact count of the votes of the last Presidential election, which he contended would show conclusively the election of Noettling over Arthur. Private Secretary Brown being notified of the case, gave directions for the crank to be turned over to the police, and after a desperate THE Ohio and Mississippi Elevator, struggle, in which he made efforts to draw his pistol, he was secured. The crank claimed Snyder county, Pa., as his place of residence.

THE United States Sepate adjourned sine die on Saturday, and Mahone's Lynchburg postmaster was not confirmed.

THE Vanderbilt roads have announced an advance of two-and-a-half per cent. on freight from Chicago to FRANK LESLIE'S POPULAR MONTH

Y:—The contents of the November umber are exceedingly interesting and ntertaining, and afford much valuable York city closed on Saturday night.

The number registered is 170,419, against 217,023 last year.

WE have been deeply affected this week by the many kind and complimentary things our cotemporaries have said about us in connection with our proposed removal into new quarters. Nothing but the well understood modesty partment of fiction are the conclusions of Benedict's serial, "A Late Remorse"; a charming story by Jane G; Austin, "The Countess's Diamonds"; "Her Secret," by Walter Edg. McCann; "Jet," "Magnanimity," "Madge," etc. The price of a copy is only 25 cents; annual subscription $3 ; or $1.50 for six, $1 for four months, sent postfree. Address, Frank Leslie, Publisher, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

Ruk Rlan will play an important part in the drama and commit a grand array of stage outrages. Tourgee never saw a member of the K. K. K., of course, for it is said when he was down in North Carolina with his carpet-bag he used to crawl under the bed whenever they were reported in the vicinity.

The list of licenses issued by the Clerk of the Peace, the annual publication of which is required by law, consumes much of our space this week that is usually devoted to reading matter. This license list is not very interesting as steady reading, but to the publisher it is more interesting than the best joke out. He gets paid for printing it. Next week we will make amends to our readers by issuing a twelve-column supplement.

An exchange remarks that "President Arthur is gaining in the confidence of the Republican party day by day." Perhaps it might be more to the President's credit if it could be said that he is gaining a little in the confidence of the country, irrespective of party. We have already had too many Presidents of the Republican party. VENNOR FOR NOVEMBER.—Noven party. We have already had too many Presidents of the Republican party. There is an opening in the hearts of the people for a man who can be President of the whole country. The brief administration of Presidest Garfield proved this.

OSCAR L. BALDWIN, cashier of the Mechanics' National Bank of Newark, New Jersey, made way with all the funds of the bank, amounting to over two million dollars, and, nothing being left but the building and furniture, the New Jersey, made way with all the funds of the bank, amounting to over two million dollars, and, nothing being left but the building and furniture, the concern was closed on Monday. Baldwin confessed to the directors, stating that the funds had been used in sustaining the morocco manufacturing firm of C. Nugent & Co. It is believed, however, that Baldwin sunk much of it in stock speculations. He and Nugent were arrested and held in $25,000 bail each. The depositors will lose from thirty to fifty per cent. of their deposits.

There are great opportunities for boys in this country, as we have been told time and again. It only seems necessary, to achive success, that the boy shall pick his opportunities as they get ripe. We have on many occasions been informed that it is possible for the poorest American boy to be in time President of his country, and so it is, if he lives, and can get votes enough, and isn't counted out. Again, we are often told that the barefooted boy with no inheritance but a wart and a good constitution, and no possessions but one pair of pants and a sore toe, can be a millionaire if he but starts out with that determination; and perhaps he can if he embraces his opportunities and don't die too early. There is no telling what an industrious, energetic and shrewd boy can't do as he grows up and enters into the realities of life in this great country. There is Bald.

A Good Indian Gone. The time-stained warrior, who with up-lifted thomas-hawk and absent-minded expression of countenance, has, for years, kept silent vigil in front of H. R. Wilson's cigar store is gone. His weather-beaten form as he stood in ferocious attitude, as though he was looking for an opportunity to scalp somebody, will be seen no more on Main street, for his days of usefulness are o'er. One of these cold mornings he pass away one of the truly good Indians of our day. In the honored place of this aged warrior has arisen a brand new Indian, bedecked in becoming apparel and holding in one hand a bunch of cigars, in the other a leaf of tobacco. He has left his thomas hawk at home and has gone into the tobacco business. His mission is into the totace of the method of the plains of the wide, wild West. He is a civilized Indian, though still clothed in the garb of his forefathers; and he is so much better looking than the aged chieftain who preceded him that we are all glad that he ceeded him that we are all glad that he has come. The Labor Question

At the suggestion of many farmers, there was a fair attendance of members at siding both in this county and in the the regular meeting of the literary society adjacent counties of Cecil and Kent, members were accepted and enrolled. A committee to receive, catalogue and arrange in the Lyceum room the books of room of the Agricultural Society, Middlethe Middletown Library was appointed.

Suffocated by Gas.

William T Craddock, of Warwick, Cecil county, Md., was suffocated by gas Saturday night in his room in the Maltby House, having blown the gas out instead of turning it off. The deceased appeared at the Maltby House Friday night and registered as above. He had with him a satchel, and presented the appearance of a countryman of the middle class. He did not sleep at the hotel Friday night, but Saturday night he got his key between 6 and 7 o'clock and shortly afterward retired to his room, No. 130, on the third floor. John O'Brian, the night watchman, made his customary round of the hotel about 10 'clock Sunday morning, and on reaching Craddock's room he encountered Suffocated by Gas.
